

Friends, family celebrate with Amber

THE Caloundra franchise of Amber Werchon Property was officially launched last week. Among the 100 guests at the event, at Alfie Langer's Mooo Char and Bar, were Amber's mother and grandparents.

The new agency will be headed up by Luke Carter, described by his boss as one of the most determined people she has ever met.

Proof of that came in March, when he managed to find his engagement ring – and some other people's long-lost jewellery – using a metal detector on Golden Beach after losing it while swimming.

Amber said Caloundra was an "obvious choice" as the location of her first franchise, because it was a strong growth area.

FIRST FRANCHISE: Amber Werchon and Luke Carter at the official launch of the Caloundra Amber Werchon Property office.

PHOTOS: BARRY LEDDICOAT/183345

SPECIAL NIGHT: Anne Steel (left) with Barry and Delma Gordon celebrate the opening of Amber's new office at the Mooo Char and Bar.

CHEERS: Among the crowd at the official opening of Amber's new office are (from left) Sam Hansen, Tony, Michelle and Desley Martin and Tom Steel.

ALL SMILES: Having a good time at the launch are (from left) Alfie Langer, Bill Steel and head of the new office Luke Carter.

SUPPORTIVE: (from left) Amber's grandparents Noela and Max Bell with Amber's mother Julie Werchon and Wendy and Mark Turner.